HIST 4499 - SENIOR SEMINAR

APPROVAL TO REGISTER FOR CLASS

History 4499 is the senior capstone experience designed for history majors. The major product of the course will be a senior thesis.

Each section of the course will be taught by a member of the Department of History and Philosophy and will concentrate on his or her area of scholarly expertise – for example, the history of the Middle East, American business history, European intellectual history, the Civil War and Reconstruction, the New South, urban history, and so forth.

The instructor will introduce students to the historiography of that particular topic and help students choose a thesis project within that area of history and find appropriate sources for the thesis.

Prerequisites with a grade of C or better:

HIST 2275  Local History Research or HIST 2270 Themes in History

HIST 3376  Problems & Philosophies or HIST 4488 Approaches to World History

In order to register for this class, students must submit form signed by the instructor teaching the class to the department office, Room 4120!
