SYLLABUS

HIST 3305/WORLD SINCE 1945

Dr. Katya Vladimirov

Office hours: Thursday 11-3

kvladimi@kennesaw.edu

Course Description and Objectives

This class offers students an historical overview of the contemporary world, while also trying to promote an awareness of the striking diversity of views that both characterize and shape that world. Through multiple perspectives the students will look at major issues in the post-1945 world: the Cold War; colonialism, decolonization, and the struggle for national independence; globalization; the international economy and different economic cultures; ethnic, gender, racial, and religious differences; the nature of international conflict in the post-Cold War world; and the changing nature of humans’ relationship to the world around them (in both environmental and technological terms). Objectives: To create awareness of the world around us; to be exposed to the real meaning of history through critical analysis of primary sources; to challenge and change existing stereotypes about history of the world; to develop historical thinking by understanding the past and the people who inhabited it on their own terms while also recognizing how our views of the past are shaped by our own experiences.

Academic Honesty

Students are expected to be familiar and to comply with the regulations regarding academic honesty as described in the Kennesaw State University Catalog, pp. 314-315.

The high quality of education at Kennesaw State University is reflected in the credits and degrees its students earn. The protection of these high standards is crucial since the validity and equity of the University’s grades and degrees depend upon it.

No students shall receive, attempt to receive, knowingly give or attempt to give unauthorized assistance in the preparation of any work required to be submitted for credit as part of a course. When direct quotations are used, they should be indicated; when the language, ideas, theories, data, graphs, programs, electronic based information or illustrations of someone other than the student are incorporated into a paper or used in a project, they should be duly acknowledged. Anything directly copied from the Internet without proper citation is plagiarism. Papers without proper citations with get zero credit; a student will fail the course and can be suspended for at least one semester unless evidence is provided to convince the courts that substantial mitigating circumstances existed in that student’s offense.
