Course Description
“An overview of world history which provides an introduction to the origin and development of the world’s societies and their political, cultural, and economic traditions.
The course uses a global approach to world history.”

Organizing Theme
This course is organized around the notion of convergence, that is, the mixing and mingling of peoples of different regions and cultures. The underlying principle here is that history unfolds as a web of intricate interrelationships. In other words, humans are constantly interacting, peacefully or otherwise. Ideas and materials are exchanged through these interactions or convergences. While local initiatives were critical in the formation of some societies, it was through convergence that ideas and materials often spread.

Objectives
The general objective is to provide students with the basic knowledge about the origins of societies. Specifically, the course will explore the social, cultural, economic, and political changes that shaped our world. Also, students will regularly evaluate the role of geography in the development of societies. The last objective is to elevate the level of critical thinking in historical analysis through class discussions, exams, and writing.

Books Required for Course
Duiker and Spielvogel, The Essential World History, 3rd edition

Final grade
To convert your numerical grade to a letter, follow this formula: 90-100=A; 80-89=B; 70-79=C; 60-69=D; 0-59=F.

Attendance
Class attendance is mandatory. Drop the class if you expect to miss more than the three absences I allow. There are no make-ups.

Exams
These non-cumulative exams will include multiple-choice questions and short essays. I will draw the exams from the lectures. Excellent tips for taking notes and studying can be found in A Student's Guide to History (Chapters 2 & 3). Dates of the exams are listed below.

Quizzes
The quizzes fulfill part of the geography requirement for the course. Each will last for about 20 minutes. You will identify regions and geographical features on blank maps and answer questions drawn directly from study guides. The study guides, along with blank maps, are posted on WebCT Vista to help you prepare. Regions to be covered are Africa, Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The dates of the quizzes (and regions) are listed below.

One separate half-page long essay
You will write one-page long essay, single-spaced in 12 pt Times New Roman font. I will post the assignment on WebCT Vista, and you will do likewise with the essay. Follow the format in A Student’s Guide to History: Chapters 4 & 5 (especially the sections on plagiarism, paraphrasing, and documentation). The consequence of plagiarism is simple: I will give you an F. (See below: Academic Integrity.) A grade of “B” is the highest score you can earn on a late essay. You have two days from the original deadline (including Saturdays and Sundays) to turn the assignment in, otherwise you forfeit the points. It is your responsibility to make arrangement for turning in tardy assignments.

You are required to write grammatically correct sentences. If you need assistance with writing, the following information might be useful: “The KSU Writing Center is a free service offered to all KSU students. Experienced, friendly writing assistants work with you throughout the writing process on concerns such as topic development, revision, research, documentation, grammar, and mechanics. Rather than edit your paper for you, writing assistants will help you learn strategies to become a better writer on your own. For more information or to make an appointment (appointments are strongly encouraged), visit http://www.kennesaw.edu/english/WritingCenter, or stop by Room 242 in the English Building.”

News of the World (NOW)
Each day before class commences, you can present one piece of news about any place in the world. You must give the source, date of publication, and explain the relevance of the news to our class. A number of reputable local and national news organs contain excellent international coverage: e.g., The Atlanta Journal-Constitution and The New York Times. There are some equally good sources on the Internet, among which is the BBC. Each presentation is worth one point.

Class exercises
These are mostly in-class activities design to facilitate or encourage class discussions. The exercises are not specified on the Tentative Schedule, but I will incorporate them throughout the semester.

Academic Integrity
Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, as published in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs. Section II of the Student Code of Conduct addresses the University’s policy on academic honesty, including provisions regarding plagiarism and cheating, unauthorized access to University materials, misrepresentation/falsification of University records or academic work, malicious removal, retention, or destruction of library materials, malicious/intentional misuse of computer facilities and/or services, and misuse of student identification cards. Incidents of alleged academic misconduct will be handled through the established procedures of the University Judiciary Program, which includes either an “informal” resolution by a faculty member, resulting in a grade adjustment, or a formal hearing procedure, which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct’s minimum one semester suspension requirement.

Class Etiquette
The consequence for “abusive, profane, threatening and/or inappropriate behavior” is severe; see Disruption of Campus Life Statement in the KSU Faculty Handbook, pp. 3.10-3.12. Accordingly, proper behavior and respect for class decorum is essential. Please silence all cell phones and electronic devices that tend to disrupt the decorum of the class. Laptops should be used only for taking notes.
