SYLLABUS

COURSE DESCRIPTION:
The course examines the major themes of American history since 1865, the multicultural nature of contemporary U.S. civilization, and the nation’s role in the global arena.

In addition, students will examine United States history by viewing the past not only from the perspectives of the elites, such as politicians, generals, aristocrats, and the intelligentsia, those who often monopolize historical accounts, but also from the perspectives of the underclasses, marginalized, and subalterns of American society. It is through these various perspectives that we can understand better IDENTITY formation.

WARNING:
YOU HAVE CHOSEN TO TAKE A HIGHLY ACCELERATED AND EXTREMELY CHALLENGING EIGHT-WEEK ONLINE CLASS. THE AMOUNT OF MATERIAL COVERED IN THIS COURSE IS THE SAME AS THAT COVERED IN A SIXTEEN-WEEK COURSE. YOU MUST BE PREPARED TO SPEND A MINIMUM OF TWO OR THREE HOURS PER DAY ON THIS COURSE. READ THIS SYLLABUS CAREFULLY; IT IS OUR CONTRACT FOR THE COURSE.

COURSE THEMES
• Continuity and Change
• IDENTITY, collective and individual

PREREQUISITES:
• ENGL 0099 and READ 0099, if required.

REQUIREMENTS:

• Students must be able to devote 5-10 hours a week to the course.

REQUIRED TEXT:
COURSE OBJECTIVES:
After completing History 2112, students will be able to:

1. Identify and evaluate the major issues, personalities, and trends in U.S. history since 1865.
2. Evaluate trends in intellectual and cultural history and relate them to topics in U.S. History.
3. Determine the relationship between local and national issues and events.
4. Place issues and events of U.S. History in a global context.
5. Analyze the trials and contributions of the many cultures that make up American society.
6. Recognize the role of diversity in American society.
7. Exhibit comprehension of the historical process of continuity and change.
8. Appraise how and why the interpretations of the issues and problems have changed over time.
9. Describe the ways geography has impacted historical processes.
10. Read and interpret maps.
11. Develop skills in critical thinking, collaboration, and organization.
12. Undertake research using a variety of materials.
15. Formulate a convincing historical argument using primary and secondary sources.

THE DISTANCE LEARNING FORMAT
The course is entirely Web-based. One might assume that the course will be easier because students need not attend class in the traditional sense or because students need not commute to places inconvenient or too distant. One might assume also that the course will be easier because students are able to fit reading, assignments, and research into busy schedules. Allow me to dispense with these assumptions.

First, even though you need not attend class in the traditional sense, you still must devote considerable time to the course material. Studies show that for every three hours students attend class (one three-semester-hour course meets two times per week for a TOTAL of three hours per week), successful students (those who make As and Bs) dedicate 2.5 times the number of in-class hours on the course outside the four walls of the classroom. In other words, if you take a three-hour class, then you should spend about seven hours on that class BEYOND THE THREE HOURS YOU SIT IN THE CLASSROOM EACH WEEK. So the experts tell us that you should spend ten hours per week on each three-hour class if you expect to make an A in the course. Therefore, I expect you to be able to devote ten hours per week to the course, and I have designed the course to accomplish just that. If you dedicate the time and follow my advice, you will learn the material, succeed in the course, and have fun doing it, the last of which is the most important.

Second, you must be a disciplined self-starter to succeed in this class. You will be asked each week to master a lot of material independently and with little personal interaction with Kennesaw State or your professor beyond your computer. I suggest you “power block” a few times each week so you can devote time only to this course with no distractions. In other words, dedicate a block of uninterrupted time to this course a few times each week and SCHEDULE some alone time to devote to the course.

Finally, D2L (the distance learning interface) boasts many, many tools. We will use some, but not all of them. In general, I will use D2L as a communication tool, one that will allow me to deliver course content in the form of: written assignments; reading assignments (from the text and other sources); audio lectures (Weekly Radio Addresses); discussion topics (Ponderables and Questions for Consideration); and assessments (exams and quizzes). If I use other tools throughout the course, I will let you know in advance.
ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING CRITERIA:

All of the assignments and exams, when applicable, are to be written in Microsoft Word, are to be completed independently, and will be submitted via D2L. You will not come to campus for exams.

Participation (100 points):
You will be measured by how often and how well you engage in the online class discussions, which will be conducted online in the Weekly Discussion Forum. You engage by posting responses to my questions, responding to your classmates’ posts, by asking questions in the forum, and by otherwise showing that you are engaging and mastering the material. I post several questions throughout the week, so you should login every day to see what is new. You will use the Discussion Forum to post and answer questions. I will give you Ponderables or Questions for Consideration each week, and you will engage in vigorous discussion with me and your classmates almost daily. This component is worth 100 points.

Again, you can earn a maximum of 100 points for participation in the course. I will post questions daily, so you will have ample opportunity to participate every day and every week. Your participation is measured in two ways: quantitatively and qualitatively. First, participation is assessed quantitatively, which means that you must submit at least SEVEN quality posts each week.

In addition, and more importantly, participation is assessed qualitatively, which means you will be measured on the quality of your post. In other words, in addition to your post being mechanically correct (proper spelling, grammar, syntax and form), your post must be materially correct. In addition, your post should contribute to the conversation and accurately display your grasp of the material. You must cite your work using the Chicago style and contribute to the conversation in a meaningful way.

Each post must meet the following guidelines:
- Each post must exceed 100 words, not including quotes and citations.
- Posts are supported by the textbook readings or other sources and are cited correctly in Chicago format.
- Posts exhibit your understanding of the material and lay out the basic ideas of the topics.
- Posts link theory to relevant examples or experiences and use the vocabulary of the concepts correctly.
- Posts must contain no errors in grammar, punctuation, spelling or syntax.
- Posts analyze and expand on the post you are responding to in light of the theories and topics covered.
- Posts apply critical thinking.
- Posts do not reference sources such as Wikipedia, Answers.com, or About.com.

Exams (400 points total):
You will have four exams, the dates of which are listed below. All exams will be conducted online. Exams could be any combination of multiple choice, true/false OR short essay questions. You will have a time limit to finish each exam and no late submissions will be accepted. The exams will assess your knowledge of the topics covered throughout the semester and include content from the text, and any other material assigned, mentioned, or touched in the next EIGHT weeks. You are responsible for all of the material in the text as well as any material covered in the discussions not in the text.

Grading:
Assignments and assessments will be weighted as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Assignment</th>
<th>Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Participation</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exam One</td>
<td>100</td>

<td>Exam Three</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Exam Four (cumulative)</td>
<td>100</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total</td>
<td>500</td>
</tr>

ACADEMIC HONESTY
Cheating is a violation of school policy. Cheating includes any attempt to defraud, deceive, or mislead the instructor in arriving at an honest grade assessment, and may include copying answers from other students or using unauthorized notes during tests. Cheating includes gaining prior access to exams or content of exams or discussions, either directly or indirectly, from former students who have completed this course. Plagiarism is a particular form of cheating that involves presenting as one’s own the ideas or work of another, and may include using other people’s ideas without proper attribution and submitting another person’s work as one’s own. Violation of the honor code constitutes grounds for suspension or expulsion from the university.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT STATEMENT
If you are a student who is disabled as defined under the Americans with Disabilities Act and requires assistance or support services, please seek assistance through the Center for Disability Services. A CDS counselor will coordinate those services. Go here for more information:
