Course Description:
A philosophical, critical examination of the different ways of knowing and thinking in the humanities, natural sciences, and social sciences including ethical and religious perspectives. Emphasis is on the nature and purpose of philosophical inquiry as applied to selected issues within philosophy and the broader implications of these methods and questions for other disciplines and in everyday contexts.

Learning Objectives:

PHIL 2200 satisfies one of Kennesaw State University’s general education program requirements. It addresses the CRITICAL THINKING general education learning outcome. The learning outcome states: Students articulate a position on an issue and support it by evaluating evidence relevant to the position, considering opposing positions or evidence, and evaluating the implications and/or consequences of this issue. For more information about KSU’s General Education program requirements and associated learning outcomes, please visit http://catalog.kennesaw.edu/preview_program.php?catoid=14&poid=1248

Required Reading:

Materials uploaded to D2L.
Attendance Policy:
To do well in this course, you cannot afford to miss class. If you miss class, be sure to meet me during my office hours to discuss what you have missed.

Attendance is mandatory. Students are required to provide a reasonable, documentable explanation for class absences. After three unexcused absences, students lose a full letter grade, to be deducted from class participation, with each additional unexcused absence.

Electronic Devices Policy:
The volume on all electronic devices should be turned off in class. Students may use laptops, etc. only to take notes in class and to look up material relevant to class discussions. Texting, chatting, or unrelated web-surfing during class will negatively affect students’ learning, class participation grades, and performance.

Course Assessments/Assignments:
For a grade of “B” or better, students must fulfill the following learning outcomes for this course:

- Demonstrate direct, primary text-based knowledge and understanding of historical and contemporary texts, arguments, and counterarguments through two long answer exams (each 10% of overall grade), one midterm paper (25% of overall grade), a final paper (25% of overall grade), online long answer quizzes (roughly one per week, totaling 10% of your overall grade), and active classroom participation (20% of overall grade).

- Write two five to seven page essays on a topic to be assigned, each articulating a philosophically relevant thesis, and elaborating and defending this thesis through accurate, detailed, logically coherent, and well-written summaries of supporting and opposing materials from assigned texts. Please visit the following links for guidance on how to write philosophy papers:

  - http://www2.gsu.edu/~phltso/paperguide.html

- Demonstrate disciplined critical thinking in your midterm and final papers, and in class discussions. See the previous bullet point and the “learning objectives” section above.

- A good (“B” or above) class participation grade requires more than consistent physical attendance. You must also actively and critically engage with class content, including text materials and your fellow students’ and the professor’s class contributions. Assist others with their thoughts and pose relevant, informed, and on-topic critical questions.
Late assignments will receive a failing grade. In some cases, the professor may choose to allow students to make up a missed/late assignment. To explore this possibility, students should contact the professor before or no later than one week after the missed/late assignment deadline. The professor is not obliged to allow students to make up missed/late assignments except when absences are excused, or when extenuating circumstances (e.g., inclement weather) affect the entire class.

- B — 89 — 80
- C — 79 — 70
- D — 69 — 60

Academic Honesty:

The high quality of education at Kennesaw State University is reflected in the credits and degrees its students earn. The protection of high standards of academic integrity is crucial since the validity and equity of the University's grades and degrees depend upon it.

No student shall receive, attempt to receive, knowingly give or attempt to give unauthorized assistance in the preparation of any work required to be submitted for credit (including examinations, laboratory reports, essays, themes, term papers, etc.). Unless specifically authorized, the presence and/or use of electronic devices during an examination, quiz, or other class assignment is considered cheating. Engaging in any behavior which a professor prohibits as academic misconduct in the syllabus or in class discussion is cheating. When direct quotations are used, they should be indicated, and when the ideas, theories, data, figures, graphs, programs, electronic based information or illustrations of someone other than the student are incorporated into a paper or used in a project, they should be duly acknowledged. No student may submit the same, or substantially the same, paper or other assignment for credit in more than one class without the prior permission of the current professor(s).

Students suspected of violating the KSU statement of Academic Honesty will meet with the instructor to discuss the violation AND be reported to the Department of Student Conduct according to the process outlined at the following link: https://web.kennesaw.edu/scai/content/scai-misconduct-procedures

The instructor has a zero-tolerance policy against plagiarism and uses TurnItIn plagiarism detection services when grading written assignments. At a minimum, students who plagiarize any part of an assignment will receive an F for that assignment, in accord with KSU’s academic misconduct procedures.
